Your relocation worries are over once our team of specialists are assigned to handle all your tasks and belongings.

OUR ASSURANCE TO YOU

Royal Relocations operates with complete facilities that are custom designed for the security of your items. You can count on us to safe keep your possessions while it's being transported or stored.

TRANSPORTATION MODE

A fast way to transport your items internationally within the shortest time.

A cost-effective way to transport your heavy or large items to worldwide destinations.

A common way to transport your items domestically

INSURANCE GUIDANCE

Upon confirmation of your relocation, our consultant will discuss transit protection options with you. Transit protection is essential in the event of any unforeseen circumstances such as vehicle accidents, mishandling in sea or airports, or other damages that may occur to your goods during transit.

Sufficient coverage for your possessions is important and it is vital that you value your items based on the replacement value at your destination country.

The coverage offered by our appointed insurance company is an 'All-Risk' Marine insurance policy that covers your household items for every mode of transportation. This policy covers for 60 days from your current address and 60 days upon arrival at your new destination. It includes the period prior to shipment, during transit, vessel arrival, storage, and delivery to your new residence.

For additional security purposes, you may take photos of your priceless items and create a separate inventory for your own reference.

Mechanical and Electrical Derangement Coverage

The standard insurance policy only covers damages as a result of evident physical injury to mechanical or electronic items.

Mechanical and Electrical Derangement Coverage is recommended if you wish to protect your television, computer, refrigerator or similar items against malfunction. All items must be proven to be in working condition before packing.

Lump Sum Cover

The Lump Sum Cover policy is a simple and convenient process as you can insure your possessions in a lump sum instead of item by item. It utilizes a value that has been assessed to be the minimum amount you insured your possessions for, multiplied by the total weight of your shipment.

Pair and Sets Coverage

The Pair and Sets Coverage protect items that either come in a pair or a set. Such notable items are normally expensive crystalware, tea sets, ornaments or limited edition items. Standard insurance policy will only pay for each article which is damaged. If it is from part of a set, for example a cup from a six pieces tea set is broken; the Pair and Sets Coverage will pay for the whole six pieces tea set.

Mold and Mildew Coverage

The standard insurance policy does not cover damage caused by mold and mildew (atmospheric or climatic conditions). The Mold and Mildew Coverage would be practical especially if you're moving to a new destination with a very humid climate.

Please complete the Insurance Application Form and pass it to your Royal consultant before your relocation day, to ensure the coverage for your items is in effect when the relocation commences.

YOUR MOVE DAY

We understand it is not easy to move into a new area. Therefore, with our highly trained team, unique relocation system, and premium quality packing materials, you can afford to relax and settle down the hassle free way. This is a part of the Royal experience.

YOUR ROYAL MOVERS

With the unique relocation system based on a pre-planned moving guide, our team of Royal movers will set aside items according to moving priority that ensure your packing and loading takes place smoothly. In order to further safeguard our promise to you, the entire relocation process will be closely monitored.

Packing Techniques

We use premium packing materials to wrap your items as it deserves maximum protection. These special packing materials will protect your belongings (especially fragile items) during each phase of the move to further assure you peace of mind.

Our packing techniques will be based on the size and weight of each item.

Each carton, furniture or separate article will be marked accordingly by a unique numbering system. Our movers will then check and mark off the items before loading it into the container.

The unique numbering system will be used to help identify our customer's belongings to avoid any misplacement of shipment during relocation process.

This is to ensure that all items are well taken care of.

Loading

Upon the loading process, you will be required to handover copies of your passport and visa to your Royal consultant in order to settle the necessary procedures.

Then, you will need to complete the moving contract, questionnaire, and custom forms to avoid any delay.

Your movers will then check the packed items based on the stacking list to ensure all your belongings are ready to move.
